BRIDGING THE YEARS TOGETHER

FALL 2022

HALL OF FAME INDUCTION CEREMONY HERBERT BALISH AUDITORIUM - MAY 26, 2022

The 2022 Hall of Fame inductees include a lawyer/jurist; an internationally recognized pharmacist; a championship winning coach; a co-director of Morgan Stanley/philanthropist; and an outstanding college athlete/business owner/community leader. The Alumni Association honors their achievements and congratulates them on lives well lived.

The Honorable Judge Carmen Cagnetta, Class of 1964- Judge Cagnetta graduated Port Richmond High School in 1964 and went on to Siena College in Loudonville, NY, where he earned a Bachelor's Degree in Economics. After college, he returned to the city to attend New York Law School. After one year of law school, he joined the US Air Force and served with the 95th Fighter Intercept Squadron at Dover Air Force Base and Atlantic City NJ. He returned to law school and received a Juris Doctor degree in 1973. After law school, Judge Cagnetta entered private practice for a short time before deciding to enter public service law. He was soon appointed Assistant District Attorney of Richmond County and was also appointed Assistant District Attorney for the Special Narcotics Prosecutor in Manhattan; in this capacity he worked on some of the biggest drug cases in New York City. He was recruited by the NYC Fire Commissioner, to be the Deputy Inspector General of the Department in charge of internal affairs and discipline trials. At the age of 36, he was appointed as a Family Court Judge. Judge Cagnetta was one of the youngest judges ever appointed at that time. He presided in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island. He also served as President of the Advisory Board of the Residential Treatment Center of South Beach Psychiatric Hospital.

Judge Cagnetta submitted his idea of "Special Tees", a tee shirt business to employ adults with mental illness, to the state. The business was selected as one of five pilot programs in the state to employ the disabled, and it was the only selected program to last more than five years. The business has been a model for many similar programs that still exist today. Judge Cagnetta also joined the board of a new non-profit organization, The Institute for Community Living, that provided programs and residences for the mentally ill. The program grew and it developed the main protocol for dealing with MICA's (Mentally Ill Chemical Abusers), who were the majority of homeless living on the streets. He eventually became the Vice President in charge of Property and Development. He oversaw the construction of over ten facilities that housed and supported the homeless. Judge Cagnetta then became counsel to the New York City Council serving with Councilman Michael McMahon. Judge Cagnetta wrote most of the recycling laws for New York City; he also worked on New York City's first Comprehensive Solid Waste Management plan, which is still in effect today. When then-Councilmen McMahon was elected to Congress, Judge Cagnetta became the Congressmen's counsel and co-director of his District Office.

Through the years, Judge Cagnetta has been dedicated to helping his alma mater, Port Richmond High School. He was a founding member of the Port Richmond High School Alumni Association in 1984. He served as President, and then as treasurer for over 15 years. In 1993, Judge Cagnetta was instrumental in getting a school directory company to search for and produce a school directory of the alumni. Judge Cagnetta convinced the directory company that Port Richmond was the high school to take a chance on, as they mostly worked with colleges and specialized schools. The Alumni Association now has a database of over 10,000 alumni. The Alumni Association is responsible for raising over $250,000 in funds to provide scholarships for graduating students and to purchase items needed for school programs not provided for by school funds. Judge Cagnetta served as the graduation keynote speaker for the class of 1985 and also headed his 1964 class committee that arranged class reunions for the 10, 25, 30, 40, 45, 50 and 55th reunions. He was also instrumental in helping to form the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame at its inception, twelve years ago. He has had a passion for politics since he first handed out political pamphlets at the tender age of thirteen. He has served as the treasurer of numerous campaigns.

Judge Cagnetta is active in his church, where for over forty years he has been a long-term member of the church council. He has served as president, treasurer and advisor to the church's youth group. He was the founder of the Richmond Adoptive Parents Group and served as the Staten Island representative to the Board of Directors of New York Legal Services. He currently serves on the Advisory Board of the Staten Island Legal Services office. Judge Cagnetta was appointed by the Chief Judge of the State of New York to be President of New York State Task Force on Permanency Planning. He recently reactivated the Randall Manor Civic Association after it had been dormant for over ten years. Judge Cagnetta has received dozens of community service awards including the Distinguished Service Award from the Richmond County Bar Association. He has made outstanding contributions in the field of adoption and has been recognized by the American Academy of Adoption Lawyers. He has received the Outstanding Service to Youth Award from the Staten Island YMCA Counseling Service and, most recently, the Community Spirit Award from Community Resources. Judge Cagnetta still lives in Randall Manor with his wife of forty-one years, Christine. He is most proud of his daughter Catherine, an English teacher at Ft. Hamilton High School, and his son-in-law Justin, a member of New York's Strongest, and his granddaughters, Emma and Zoe. It is because of his many accomplishments in the legal field and his service to Port Richmond High School and the North Shore of Staten Island that the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame has chosen The Honorable Judge Carmen Cagnetta to be honored as an inductee into the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame.

Dr. Patricia Lieveld, Class of 1976 – Dr. Lieveld was born and raised in Port Richmond. After she graduated Port Richmond High School in 1976, she earned her bachelor's, master's and doctorate degree in pharmacy from the Arnold and Marie Schwartz College of Pharmacy at Long Island University. Dr. Lieveld then relocated to New Orleans, where she was a professor of nursing and pharmacy at the Louisiana College of Pharmacy of Xavier University for twenty-two years. When Hurricane Katrina devastated the area in 2006, she relocated to Texas, where she worked as a professor of pharmacy in the Feik School of Pharmacy of the University of the Incarnate Word. Dr. Lieveld coordinated Feik's Faculty Development Program, was involved with the Applied Pharmaceutical Care course, and lectured in other courses including Pathophysiology, Behavioral Pharmacy, Professional Communications, and Disease State Management. Dr. Lieveld became a member of the Women's Global Connection in 2008. She traveled to Bukoba, Tanzania several times with WGC to work on their mission project. Dr. Lieveld worked tirelessly with her partners in the BUWEA (Bukoba Women's Empowerment Association) on better solutions for sanitation issues and water access. With the Women's Global Connection, and the Women's Earth Alliance, as well as the BUWEA, she worked on tackling the global water crisis. Dr. Lieveld conducted extensive research, with a focus on which practices worked best to create and build rain water harvesters. She also provided workshops to teach the women of the village how to build these harvesters so they would have safe drinking water for their towns and families. Prior to the implementation of the harvesters, women would have to walk up to eight hours per day to fetch dirty water from the river. She gave her time, dedication, and inspiration to the project, which is now named the Lieveld Rainwater Harvester Project. The first rainwater harvester was built in 2012, one year prior to Dr. Lieveld's death. There are now a number of harvesters in various village locations, serving countless numbers of people. Dr. Lieveld was honored at the 2015 Women's Global Connection "Women and Water" Gala, as well as earning the William Mulcahy Award for Ecological Stewardship in 2014. A memorial for Dr. Lieveld was built at a rainwater harvester site at the BUWEA soy plant in Tanzania. It is because of her many accomplishments as a Pharmacologist, Professor, Researcher and Developer that the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame has chosen Dr. Patricia Lieveld to be honored as an inductee into the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame.

Karen Lynch, Faculty – Ms. Lynch grew up in the Bronx with three brothers and one sister. Her love of sports began very young, and some of her fondest early memories are of throwing the ball around with her siblings. She was a star athlete at John F. Kennedy High School where she played basketball and softball. Ms. Lynch played basketball for Wagner College, where she also started learning the ropes of coaching. Upon graduation, she became a full-time coach. After coaching at Wagner College, and a few other schools in Staten Island, Ms. Lynch came to Port Richmond High School to teach in the fall of 1989. She taught science in the Instructional Support Services department. Having already made a name for herself in the coaching world, she was welcomed with open arms to the football program at Port Richmond. Ms. Lynch is the only woman to ever coach high school varsity football on Staten Island (one of two in the city overall). Not only did Ms. Lynch coach the varsity football team, but she also coached the softball team for twelve years as head coach, and six years as assistant coach. Ms. Lynch won nearly eighty percent of her games, including a 26-0 season in 1996. She learned and then taught others to put in the time and effort, both on and off the field. Ms. Lynch always wanted her students to perform well and show true Raider spirit not only as athletes, but as model citizens. Whether in the Deans' Office, the field, or the classroom, Ms. Lynch was a true motivator who always pushed her students to be better people. During her time at Port Richmond, Ms. Lynch won seven city titles and five runner-up titles, as well as six Staten Island crowns and seven seconds. Among other awards over the course of her career, Ms. Lynch also won four city championships, three Metro-Bowls, and in 1984, she was the CUNY Conference Basketball Coach of the Year at the College of Staten Island. In 2020, Ms. Lynch was inducted into the Staten Island Sports Hall of Fame, the twenty fourth woman ever to be inducted. Ms. Lynch is also an animal devotee and activist. In recognition of her educational and coaching career, Ms. Karen Lynch has been honored as an inductee into the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame.

Andrew M. Saperstein, Class of 1985 – Andy graduated as Salutatorian of the Port Richmond High School Class of 1985. While at Port Richmond, he was selected to participate in the Japanese-American Student Exchange Program, received the New York City Board of Education Chancellor's Roll of Honor, the Governor's Scholastic Achievement Citation in recognition of character, citizenship, scholarship and service and won a Regents College Scholarship. He also served as Editor of Port Richmond's Student Newspaper (The Crow's Nest) and was Captain of the Tennis Team. He went on to the University of Pennsylvania where he graduated Summa Cum Laude with dual degrees in Finance from the Wharton School and Economics from the College of Arts and Sciences. Upon graduation he worked as an investment banking analyst for Salomon Brothers and later earned a JD from Harvard Law School where he graduated Cum Laude. Following Law School, Andy joined McKinsey and Company as a financial services consultant and was elected Partner. In 2000, Andy joined Merrill Lynch as the Chief Operating Officer for the Wealth Management Division. He later found his home at Morgan Stanley, joining in 2006 as Chief Operating Officer of National Sales and was named Head of National Sales following the acquisition of Smith Barney in 2009. After working in a series of progressively senior roles Andy was named Co-President of Morgan Stanley in 2021. As Co-President, Andy leads the Wealth Management Division as well as global Firmwide Marketing and serves on the Morgan Stanley Operating Committee. Andy has served as a trustee of the Morgan Stanley Foundation, the firm's charitable arm focused on giving back, providing children with a healthy start to life, supporting diverse communities, and fostering employee engagement. He currently serves as an Executive Committee Board Member for SIFMA, a Board Director for the Child Mind Institute, and an Advisory Council Member for Teen Cancer America. Among other recognitions, Andy has received the Leadership Award from Partnership with Children in 2016 and the Legacy of Hope Award from Hopes and Heroes in 2019. These awards honor Andy's and Morgan Stanley's ongoing philanthropic efforts supporting children's health and well-being, as well as service and community leadership. In recognition of Mr. Saperstein's exemplary qualities - personal, academic and professional - we are honoring him as an inductee into the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame.

Jim Schoepfer, Class of 1974 - Mr. Schoepfer was a star football player during his time here at Port Richmond. He played under Coach Nick Bilotti and alongside Gary Barton, also Hall of Fame Members. Mr. Schoepfer was a tight end and defensive end. He is a two-time Staten Island Advance Football Star, two-time New York Daily News All Star, and selected to the Second Team All Century. Mr. Schoepfer was Captain of the Football team in 1973 and also voted MVP. He played basketball as well as football while here at Port Richmond, and graduated in 1974. Upon graduation, he was offered scholarships to more than fifteen Division 1 schools. Mr. Schoepfer ultimately chose the University of Tennessee, Chattanooga. During his senior year of college, he was selected to play in the prestigious Blue/Gray game, which was comprised of the best Division 1 players in the country and was nationally televised. Although Mr. Schoepfer sustained a career ending injury during his senior year at the University of Tennessee, it did not slow him down. Mr. Schoepfer, along with his brother-in-law John Whalen, initiated the Clydsdale division to the local running scene on Staten Island. Mr. Schoepfer was the top Clydsdale runner in his weight division 225 and above, for many years. He competed in numerous triathlons and later went on to run in the NYC Marathon. He also came in 2nd in his weight division in the Marine Corp Marathon. Mr. Schoepfer became one of the proud owners of two Circles Restaurants, one in Bensonhurst, Brooklyn and the other here in Staten Island. Circles Restaurants were a neighborhood staple for many years and offered delicious bistro-style food. Mr. Schoepfer then worked his last 10 years as a Local One mechanic with the Schindler Group and was responsible for overseeing all of the elevators and equipment that moves the staff, players and fans throughout Yankee Stadium. Mr. Schoepfer is a pillar in his community. His son James played football at Port Richmond, and his son Stephen ran track as well as played lacrosse and drums in the marching band at Port Richmond. His wife Barbara was also a very active member of the Port Richmond High School PTA. In recognition of his sports career and entrepreneurial spirit, Mr. Jim Schoepfer has been honored as an inductee into the Port Richmond High School Hall of Fame.

Principal's Message

Greetings to all my fellow Alumni,

I hope this message finds you well and your loved ones continue to stay healthy and safe. I am happy to report that after nearly thirty months, things seem to have finally returned to normal across the Department of Education. Our halls are bustling with nearly 1800 students, after school clubs and sports activities are in full swing, and this past Friday we hosted our first Back to School Dance in over two years.

Despite the challenges presented over the last two and a half years, we still have many things to celebrate here at our alma mater. In June, we celebrated our commencement ceremony for the class of 2022, at the majestic St. George Theatre. Similar to the class of 2021, the class of 2022 achieved the highest graduation rate in two decades and I couldn't be more proud to be their principal. We were also honored to have Nicole Meyers, President of the Staten Island Chapter of the National Council of Negro Women as our guest speaker.

This marks one of our largest incoming freshman classes with over 100 more incoming ninth grades compared to last year. This of course led to an increase in hiring with 23 new staff members hired over the summer. This fall will also finally see the completion of our new $15.7 million athletic complex. After years of delays and supply chain issues, the School Construction Authority ensures me that our complex will be completed before the winter holidays and our students will be on our new fields, track and tennis courts by the spring sports season.

This year also marks year three of our Grades 9-14 P-Tech Program in which our students will earn both a high school diploma from Port Richmond High School and a tuition-free Associate's Degree from the College of Staten Island. This fall, our third-year cohort students started their first college classes taking two college classes from CSI professors while also taking their required high school classes.

This school year, we will also continue our newest partnership with the Staten Island chapter of the National Council of Negro Women, providing our students with mentoring and public speaking skills.

Lastly, as I enter my fifth year as principal, my 21st year at Port Richmond and my 30th year working for the DOE, I look forward to the exciting school year ahead and can't wait to share all of our successes and achievements with our generous alumni and friends.

Fondly,

Andrew Greenfield

(Class of 1988) - Proud Principal

President's Message

To All Alumni

I hope you all enjoyed a great summer and were able to get in some vacation and relaxation time. We are well into the Fall semester at Port Richmond High School and everyone is settling into the back to school routine.

Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors already have a good understanding of what it means to be a PRHS student, but the new freshman are just finding their way. Most of our new freshmen will need a bit more time before they have an understanding of what the school is like and to fully grasp all the opportunities available to them at PRHS.

They have a full complement of teachers to educate them, Guidance Counselors they can speak with to help solve any issues they may have, a wonderful administrative staff who are eager to help all the students, School Safety Officers to reassure their safety, and a great support staff to help ease the transition from Middle School.

In addition, there are multitude of sports teams and clubs available to the students as well as instrumental and vocal music. The opportunity is there to learn to play a new instrument or play a new sport or to try something that piques their curiosity. There are so many extra curricular programs available to those students who wish to get involved and meet new friends as well as hone a craft or learn something new. What they very quickly learn is that the staff is there to help students feel more comfortable and set the groundwork for a very successful and fulfilled high school experience.

Wishing everyone a very happy and healthy Fall season.

Sincerely,

John C. Woodman '62

A TRIP OF A LIFETIME!

Dear Port Richmond High School Alumni,

The Port Richmond High School Marching Band would like to ask for your help funding a very special trip. Our band was invited to march in the 2023 National Independence Day Parade on Constitution Avenue in Washington, D.C. This trip includes marching past the White House, touring museums and the National Monuments, laying a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and listening to the National Symphony while watching the fireworks on the Capitol Lawn. The total cost of the trip is $600 per person and we have approximately 50 Marching Band members.

Donations to help fund the trip will help pay for travel, meals, tickets, and hotel for all Marching Band members. Your funding can make a once in a lifetime trip possible.

After having limited trips because of COVID, this opportunity is very special to us. We'll be forever grateful if you choose to help us perform in Washington, D.C. Any donation, no matter how large or small, is appreciated. Checks can be made out to the Port Richmond High School Alumni Association with "Marching Band Trip" written on the Memo line. Checks can be mailed to "Care of Carmen Coggnetta, Treasurer 24 Clinton Court, SI, NY 10301."

With thanks,

The Port Richmond High School Band Members

ATHLETIC COMPLEX UPDATE

Some would argue that history tends to repeat itself. Perhaps this is true of the PR athletic complex. Although our school opened in 1927, PR teams did not have the “home field advantage” until 1940. The picture above-left was taken in 1938 during construction of the original complex. The stadium, field house, and track were completed. The tennis courts were nearing completion and the baseball diamond would be constructed in the lower right of the track. Fast forward eighty years and we find that PR teams are still without a home field due to delays caused by the pandemic, budget delays, etc.. However, the good news is that the restoration project is just about finished. The two other pictures show how much larger the field is as the result of the city purchasing the area to the left of the field house that is now the baseball field. In addition, we also have a softball field. The Alumni Association would like to acknowledge Principal Andrew Greenfield and Assemblyman Charles Fall (D-SI) for their strong efforts to get this project completed.
